He Is Risen Indeed

To scoff at the truth concerning the bodily resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ or that of the bodies of humankind is not the trait of a particular group of individuals among the Liberals. For at least two millennia this has been a favorite pastime of all the self-styled "Moderns." Both Luke and Matthew report of the Sadducees that they "deny that there is any resurrection."

As a truth to be received or rejected the Lord’s own words declare, "I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live" (John 11:25). Jesus Christ, the "I" of this revealing statement, Himself personifies—indeed, He is the resurrection. To this eternal truth we have the personal testimony of many persons. They saw Jesus alive, risen from the dead. Peter, Mary, John, James, the twelve—these were among the witnesses who actually saw the Lord; and, at yet another time, the twelve saw, and then more than "five hundred brethren" (I Cor. 15:5-8).

The disciples preached the resurrection as the proof that Christianity was of and from a living God, and that same resurrection distinguishes Christianity from all other religions. Why, the very center of Christianity is the person, the living Christ. It was this belief, this preaching, this truth that brought conviction and persecution to the early Christians (Acts 2:32; 4:33; 17:18).

But even beyond this proof and of even greater importance to us today are the facts that the bodily resurrection of Jesus is

1. Proof of His deity (Romans 1:4).

A DAY OF PRAYER
AT BRYAN

President Rudd has designated Wednesday, April 24th, as a day of prayer and praise on Bryan Hill. Christians the land over are urged to join with the students and faculty in looking to God for the greatly needed building and in praising Him for the expectant faith He has implanted in their hearts. It is anticipated that Dr. Ernest M. Wadsworth, of the Great Commission Prayer League, will lead the services on Bryan Hill.

More and more it now appears that the University must either build up or back down. We cannot stand still. We must not back down. The alternative is to advance in faith, believing. Pray for needed wisdom; pray for needed funds; pray for needed priorities; pray for answered prayer. Especially, remember to pray on Prayer Day.

Mr. Bryan Honored

Soft classical music, flickering cand-dles, colorful jonquils, dainty bridal wreath—all combined to create the proper setting for the banquet held on March 18th in honor of William Jennings Bryan. Suspended at one end of the hall was a large drawing of the prospective memorial building,
the fulfillment of the great orator's desire to establish a thoroughly Christian school.

Amidst the tinkle of glasses and silverware, the program began with the introduction of the tostmaster, Prof. Norman Uphouse. Followed a vocal duet by Vivian McBride and Marjorie Morgan, Ann Wildern's presentation of one of Mr. Bryan's speeches, a violin quartet arrangement by Prof. Stock, Mrs. Morrow, Irina O'Neal, and Irene Correll, accompanied by Dorothy Stoll.

"Is it Worth While?" queried George Birch, a recently returned veteran, in his impromptu talk. Eileen Miller's "Dedication" was a message in song well designed to direct thoughts into serious channels. After-

SINGERS ON TOUR

Anticipating a summer of travel in the Lord's work, two Gospel teams took short trips between quarters and during the first few days of the spring quarter.

Accompanied by President Rudd, a ladies' quartette, consisting of Miss Rebecca Peck, director, LaVerne Howland, Vivian McBride, and Hazel Nell Geiger, journeyed into Georgia, Florida, and Alabama.

At the same time, the men's quartette was singing in the western part of Tennessee and parts of Mississippi. Personnel of this group included Professor Uphouse, Mrs. Brickel, accompanist, Clare Brickel, Edward Miller, Dean Risser, and William Breckbill.

The ladies' trio, Eileen Miller, Wilma Walker, Lois Weyhe; a violinist, Irma O'Neal; their accompanist, Dorothy Stoll; and Dean Rutherford expect to hold several services in Iowa during the middle of April.

ON THE CAMPUS

Spectators of the Scarlet and Gold basketball games last quarter ended up with ragged fingernails and hoarse voices, as the Scarletts triumphed over the Golds in four out of six games, both men and women playing. Results of the volleyball contests found the Golds recovering some needed points in the annual Scarlet-Gold contests.

A bewildered goat, squawking chickens and grunting pigs, and an old wood stove helped to set the stage for "The Martins and the Coys—Feudin' Mountainers," the prize-winning program presented by the Golds in the annual Scarlet-Gold contests.

Although the University does not encourage admissions at the opening of the third quarter, a hand of fellowship is extended to Glen Schwenk, of Laporte, Ind., and also to the returning Jerry Teeter, absent for some little time because of illness at home.

Alumni and former students, always welcome visitors on the Hill, have recently been represented by Joe and Bertie Sullivan, Summer Wemp, and Al Mognin—all from the Dallas Theological Seminary, Dallas, Texas.

JUST TO REMIND YOU

Are you planning to invest soon? A Bryan University Annuity brings returns to you now and to countless young people in years to come. Write for details.

Would you leave your estate to Fido? A foolish question, of course—but it has been done. You can invest in eternal returns by leaving it to the University and letting it be used to train Christian leaders.

of their degrees in 1935. Besides being a good homemaker and mother to their son, Allan Eugene, Mrs. Fish has faithfully served in the University office as Secretary to the President, as bookkeeper, and as Office Manager.

Both Professor and Mrs. Fish are looking forward to the day, trusting that it will come soon, when they can move into their new home, the second to be constructed in “Faculty Village.”

EASTER CANTATA

Students are busy these days around Bryan preparing for the Easter Cantata to be given in the Southern Methodist church in Dayton.

A real Spiritual blessing is in store for the townsfolk. “Everlasting Life,” by Forman, will be sung by the choir with solo, duet, quartet, ensemble, and chorus parts. Preceding this rendition will be a short instrumental program. Among those participating will be Miss Bertha Derr with a novel piano arrangement of “Rock of Ages” and the violin quartet with “Praise Ye the Father” by Gounod. What a privilege that we, like David of old, can rejoice in the Lord by word and by instrument. “For praise is comely for the upright” (Psalms 33:1-3).—J. P.

WE REGRET

We regret having printed the wrong address for Rev. D. H. Dolman in a recent issue of NEWSSETTE. The address should read 113 Talbot Road, Bournemouth, England.

2. The basis for our salvation (Romans 10:8, 19).
3. Proof of our eternal inheritance (I Peter 1:3-5).
4. Ground for separation of saved and lost at the coming of the Lord for His own (I Thess. 4:14-17).

“If Christ be not raised, then is our preaching in vain, and your faith is vain. Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God;...ye are yet in your sins” (I Cor. 15:14-17). Do we realize the importance of these facts? If Christ did not come forth from the grave in the flesh, every Christian preacher is a liar, and every Christian is a hell-bound sinner without hope. But He did arise! And He wanted it definitely known that He had; for to His disciples He said: “And ye are witnesses of these things.” This blessed resurrection truth is ours to witness to, ours to tell out. He is risen, indeed.

True Prayer

“Much is ill done
More is over done
Most is under done—Because Prayer is not well done.”—Selected.

Sam’s Summary

Dear Folks:

Have you looked at me on the graph? I am a bit disappointed in the amount of money which came in during March—remember, March 19 was Mr. Bryan’s birthday?

Were you one of those who sent a gift to help celebrate? Only two months left during this fiscal year and we need your help.

You should see this bunch of young people, their joy in the Lord and their eagerness to serve Him; then, I know you would want to help.

Gratefully,

Sam
